

Great news...

In line with Government and ADA directions, we are able to open the clinic on Monday 27th April. We will, of course, be doing things a little differently so we can work with the social distancing rules.

We have made the decision to operate both locations simultaneously allowing us to split our team.

We have changed our procedures to limit the aerosol created during appointments and will be limiting the number of patients in the clinic and waiting areas.

See you soon :)
